

Diapharm welcomes Dr Thilo Sandner to consulting team

Münster (Germany), 8 June 2017 – The healthcare consultancy Diapharm (www.diapharm.com) announces the arrival of Dr Thilo Sandner, an experienced business consultant, to its team. Prior to joining Diapharm, Thilo Sandner gained considerable experience in the global Life Sciences team of Charles River Associates (CRA), formerly Cepton Strategies, in their Munich and New York City offices. During his time at CRA, he managed projects on portfolio and commercial strategies, as well as market access. At Diapharm, he will assume a leading role in the strategic management consulting team.

“I am delighted to welcome Thilo Sandner. His joining the team enhances our strategic consulting expertise and enables us to provide our clients with an even broader range of services in this field,” says Ralf Sibbing, General Manager of Diapharm. Diapharm advises companies in the consumer healthcare and pharmaceutical industries on developing healthcare products and placing them in the market.

Thilo Sandner obtained a Master of Science in Management from King’s College London and a PhD in Innovation Management from the Freie Universität Berlin. He is the son of Diapharm’s founder Dr Stefan Sandner.
